

Central Willaston in the 1950s

In this photo four cows can be seen wandering towards the white house, which at the time had belonged to the Bailiff.

This photo shows the Old Red Lion and Laburnum Farm

This photo shows Christ Church on the right and the Post Office sign points to Holmes book shop which also advertised as selling stationery and confectionery.

Midland Bank occupied the building opposite the junction.

(Photos and information from Yesterday's East Wirral 1860-1960 by Ian Boumphrey and reprinted with permission)