

Community Pride Competition

In the early 2000's Willaston continued to have success in what was now called the Community Pride Competition organised by Cheshire Community Council.

From left to right:
Roger James,
Max Kirby, Cllr
Myles Hogg,
Marilyn Hog and Eileen
Macdonald
receive the 2002
award.

As part of the 2004 competition, the Meadow won the Cheshire Countryside Award and two native trees were planted:

- A wild cherry tree was planted in the Big Meadow;
- A small leaved lime tree was planted on the Recreation Ground.

The planting party included Mrs Helen Carey, Chairman of the Cheshire Landscape Trust, Mr Bob Prince, Trustee and representatives of various Willaston groups and organisations.

Eileen Macdonald receives the Countryside Award for 2004.